EDITOR'S NOTE

The photos show the lovely display of daffodils outside the church and heralds the arrival of spring. The two photos below are of Julia Routledge one of the Brownie leaders and her profile is on the back page. A reminder that it is lovely to hear reports on what the various church or other groups are doing each month - even it is only a few lines! We really do need to hear your news. Sheila Lancaster

CHRISTIAN AID WEEK

10-16 MAY 2009

A Christian Aid envelope will be delivered with this magazine. Please put your contribution into it, fill in the gift aid form if you pay tax and return it to Church, Badsey Shop, Middlebank Aldington, The Vicarage, 45 Bretforton Road or give it to a member of the church council. Phone me if you would like it collected.

Thank you

Christian Aid is an agency of the British and Irish churches. They work alongside other partner organisations with other partner organisations with the world's poorest communities in 60 countries. Christian Aid is also part of the Disasters Emergency Appeal made up of 11 organisations. When emergencies occur (like the recent earthquake in Italy), they have been able to act quickly with essential front line care providing medical supplies, clean water, food and family survival kits.

Dear All,

May this year is quite a busy month; the 17th sees our Rogation Service (this year at Badsey) - a time we gather as community to give thanks to God and to pray for his blessing during the coming growing season. May this year also sees the celebration of the Feast of the Ascension (21 May). The Ascension marks the culmination of Christ's ministry here on earth. There will be a Benefice Eucharist for Ascension at 7.30 pm at St Leonard in Bretforton on the 21 May, an opportunity to celebrate, and in the words of the great hymn by Charles Wesley 'Hail the day that sees him rise'.

In the story of the Ascension in the first chapter of the Acts of the Apostles, the disciples are left wondering what will happen to them now that Jesus has departed from them. They are joined by to men in white robes, who say to them, 'Men of Galilee, why do you stand looking into heaven?': meaning that there is work for them on earth: which they will do with the guidance of the Holy Spirit.

Just as for the disciples, there is work for us all to do; Christian Aid Week this year is 10 - 16 May, and among other areas, Christian Aid will be helping people in the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC). Following ten years of conflict, malnourishment and preventable diseases still claim thousands of lives each week. Christian Aid partner organisations are helping to rebuild lives and livelihoods in some of the DRC's most vulnerable communities by helping train young people with skills they can use for life. I know that in the present economic climate a lot of people are finding it difficult to make ends meet, but when you see the Christian Aid envelops this year, do spare a thought for the thousands of people around the world who are less well off than we are.

ACORNS TRIPLE RUN, SUNDAY 7. JUNE 2009

THREE COUNTIES SHOWGROUND, MALVERN

The fourth Acorns Triple Run is to take place at the Three Counties Showground on Sunday 7th June this year. The Triple Run provides an event where all members of the family can participate together, including able-bodied and disabled children. The idea for the event has come from the courage and strength shown by children in their battles against illness and disability.

This family event consists of three runs: the 'Malvern Half Marathon', the '5km Spring Fun Run' and a 1km wheelchair-friendly 'Chicken Run' suitable for children and adults with special needs.

There are several ways you can help this year. You may wish to participate in the running events, sponsor some friends or bring the family along to watch. Organising the event needs the help of many volunteers. If you are interested in volunteering on the day as a steward, we would love to hear from you.

To enter online simply visit the Triple Run website www.acornstriplerun.org.uk or call the Triple Run Hotline on 0844 984 0405 or email triplerun@acorns.org.uk

It costs only £6 to enter the Spring Run and £5 for the Chicken Run. The Half Marathon costs £15 for affiliated runners and £17 for unaffiliated runners.

The last three years have seen a fantastic show of strength from the local area, and it would be great to see the same support this year. The final deadline for all applications is the 24th May, so please book early to avoid disappointment! If you have any questions or can offer help as a volunteer on the day, please get in touch

WICKHAMFORD GARDENING CLUB

The next meeting of the Gardening Club will take place on Wednesday 27th May 2009 at 7.30pm in the Memorial Hall. The speaker this month will be Shaun Greatham from Unique Landscapes. The monthly competition is "Spring Flower Collection". All members and guests are invited to what promises to be an informative and entertaining evening.

For further information please contact either Colin Hail (01386830237) or Dorothy Turpitt (01386 830834)

PHOENIX THEATRE GROUP

Since 1996 we have performed a play at the Remembrance Hall, usually in June. The play this year is Outside Edge by Richard Harris and will be performed at the Remembrance Hall 18-20 June.

K FITNESS POSTURE POINTERS

Good Posture can make you feel younger, stronger and more confident and can help improve your breathing. Stand in front of a mirror.....What do you see? Someone standing tall and confident or someone who looks much older than you had imagined? Look for any of the following; An elevated hip or shoulder, One side of the body rotating forward or backward, Pelvis and hips tilted, Rounded back, Drooping shoulders or Head jutting forward? Any of these can be indications that your body has poor movement patterns due to one of a number of reasons such as muscle imbalance or compensation for injuries.

It is easy to change poor postural habits and good or bad posture can change a persons looks in a flash so try this;

Stand with your feet slightly apart, feet pointing at 10 to 2 o'clock position... Draw the tummy in and breathe... Lift the lower ribs up from the hips without leaning back... Let the shoulders relax down and outwards... Lift chin to a level position and SMILE. See, you already look better.

Think Tall, Sit Tall, Walk Tall and Take Care

VALE OF EVESHAM CIVIC SOCIETY AWARD FOR BADSEY

For the first time, the Vale of Evesham Civic Society has presented one of its architectural awards to a building in Badsey. The new garage and storage loft on the north side of Badsey Manor House received a Certificate of Merit. It was the only award made this year at the Society's AGM held on 7 April.

Making the award, Chairman Brian Barry described the new development as "blending in beautifully with the Manor House". He praised the careful and sympathetic work of the architects John C Goom Ltd and the contractor Sibbasbridge Ltd. The new building is constructed from oak which will, in time, weather to the same colour as the timbers on the Manor House.

The building can be seen from the High Street, but there will be a chance to get a closer look on the Badsey Open Gardens weekend (20 & 21 June)."

Our new Sunday School has met twice, the children enjoyed stories, singing, drama and arts and crafts. We meet on Sundays 24 May, 28 June and 26 July at 11 am in Badsey Nursery. Please come and join with us if you are aged 4-10 to hear bible stories and have some fun. Mark your calendar and come and join us. You will be very welcome. Details above.

ROUND ROBIN GROUP

We had a very enjoyable meeting in April when John Dallimore gave a very interesting talk on The Antiques Road Show. Members joined in with talks of their own antiques.

Our next meeting is on Thursday 21 May at 2.00 pm - 3.00 pm. at 45 Brewers Lane. All are welcome and transport can be arranged. Telephone Sheila Lancaster 833929

NEW IMAGE OF W.I.

In the Daily Mail last Saturday there was a humorous small article near the back from a former Vicar who was working for some reason part time in a shop. This shop sold among a lot of other things, magazines, and wanted to sell 'men's magazines'. Initially they were put on one of the lower shelves, but, the Vicar's wife saw them and insisted they were put on a high shelf 'or she would have the local WI out with banners, protesting.' This was a light hearted piece, poking gentle fun at the traditional stereo-typed image of the WI. Even the WI meeting in 'Calendar Girls' with the speakers portrayed as not being on the most lively subjects, was another stereotypical image.

However, it may be of interest to non-WI members to know that over the years the WI has been responsible for some very innovative ideas. The 'Keep Britain Tidy' campaign was started by the WI, what a pity it seems to have now fallen by the wayside as our streets and towns have never looked dirtier. Fortunately Bill Bryson has taken up this challenge to improve our litter-strewn country and the image we give to visitors.

Last week there was a Worcestershire WI County information day. The morning speaker was on the Resolution to be discussed at the National AGM in June. It was the worrying information that our bees are disappearing and urging the Government to put money into research to try and stop this. There was so much information about bees. Apparently bees not only produce honey, but they play a vital role in pollinating plants for food and other crops. Currently honey bees are coming under threat from pests and diseases for which treatments are not fully understood or effective and many bee keepers have experienced the complete destruction of their hives from such diseases.

The National Bee Unit currently gets £1.3 million a year for research which will be increased by an extra £2.3 million by 2010/11. However the British Bee Keeping Association believes this is not enough and it argues that approximately £165 million is the benefit we get from bees every year to the UK economy.

SISTERS OF BETHANY

When I became an associate member of the Sisters of Bethany, people would ask me what order they belonged to. All nuns, monks even cleric and readers and many other Christians belong to one type of religious order. Many of us have heard of the Benedict monks, who eat in silence whilst listening to a monk read from a book and have the rule of Benedict read daily. Then there are the Franciscans who wear sandals most of the year. Other Orders include the Ignatian, Celtic, Dominican and Carmelites. The Sisters of Bethany follow the Salesian Spirituality. I will try to explain what it is.

The founders, St Francis de Sales and Jane de Chantal had the insight that there is a path to holiness which could be followed by everyone.

This is a way that appeals to everyone. No special items of clothing required. No written rules to be heard daily. The only requirement is ourselves. Here are the characteristics:

Everyone is called to holiness
 Live in the present moment
 First become holy from within
 Learn humility, who you are, who God is
 Holiness is a journey of a lifetime
 Emphasise the positive over the negative
 Be gentle towards your neighbour
 Love obedience over fearing disobedience
 Be patient especially with your self
 Courtesy and respect mark the devout
 Devout life = relationships + love
 Devotion never inconveniences others.

Jesus means we are optimistic of the future
 On one of my bookmarks is a picture of Francis de Sales and a quotation saying "Do not think that God is further from you when you are in the midst of the busyness which your vocation entails than he would be if you were enjoying a tranquil life"
 The rules are simple this The Salesian way is a spirituality in working cloths.
 So People of God try the Salesian way

PRAYER

If a prayer can move a mountain
 If a prayer can stop a war,
 If a prayer can foster love and peace
 Where hatred ruled before,
 If a prayer can conquer hunger
 If a prayer has power to heal,
 If a prayer can mend division
 Why are we so slow to kneel?
 Offering prayers up to our maker,
 Throughout each brand new day
 To change things for the better,
 In every kind of way.

Councillor Wanted!

Badsey and Aldington Parish Council are seeking to co-opt a new councillor to replace Councillor James Fleck whose resignation was accepted at the March meeting. If you would like to consider applying for the position, please contact the Clerk, Jo Ellis on 01386 832713 for an application form. The closing date is the 8th May 2009.

Important – Your chance to make your views known!

The Annual Parish Meeting is provisionally booked for Monday 11th May 2009 in the Remembrance Hall, Badsey at 7.30pm. (Please check notice boards for up to date posters). All residents of the village are invited to attend to raise items of interest / concern with the Parish Councillors. Although the theme for this year's meeting is Badsey Recreation Ground, any matter can be discussed at this meeting. But as the Council is planning to apply for grants to provide new play equipment for the Recreation Ground we would particularly like to hear the views of the younger members of the community and of anyone who uses the Recreation Ground to ensure that all needs are catered for.

Residents are reminded that the Parish Council has a 10 minute public forum before the start of every meeting each month where residents can raise concerns on any matter that they consider of interest to their Parish Council.

Police Matters

CSO Shoenrock reported to the March Council meeting that the crime figures were down though there had been two burglaries in the village and an incident of vandalism at the British Legion. If anyone has any information they should contact the police in confidence.

THE REV DR GARY BOWNESS, CONTINUES HIS TONGUE-IN-CHEEK-LETTERS FROM 'UNCLE EUSTACE'...

On why a vicar should avoid taking weddings.

The Rectory, St James the Least of All

My Dear Nephew Darren

Offering to take last week's marriage service for you in your church, so you could attend your weekend plumbing course, proved to be an unwise act of generosity on my part. You may now be qualified to unblock church hall kitchen sinks and install drainage to the font, but I will not be taking another marriage ceremony for you again, no matter how much you have set your hart on that electrician's course next year so that you can re-wire the vestry and put strobe lighting in the sanctuary.

At first I was delighted when the bride's mother called, inviting me to the reception. I assumed Charnley Hall would be a fitting location for the reception, even if it was a little puzzling not to be able to find the venue in the directory of stately homes. I did not realise until too late that it was the name of the public house next door to your church. Clearly the regulars in the Saloon Bar were not used to seeing a gentleman of the cloth in their establishment, because someone was sent over to ask me where the fancy dress party was. At least I had been placed with the happy couple and both sets of parents, although the privilege was rather spoiled when I was told that my presence there was to stop the bride's mother attacking her newly-acquired son-in-law. My presence may have kept the peace at our table, but had no effect on some of the others.

Well before the speeches, remarks between bride's and groom's supporters had moved from sarcasm to the point where I expected tactical nuclear weapons would be deployed. Phrases such as "Who are you looking at?" and "Want to come outside and sort it out?" that I'd only ever read in the sort of cheap fiction one buys for long train journeys echoed round the room. Battle lines were drawn. The Archduke Ferdinand moment came when a bridesmaid slapped an usher. Chairs were overturned, fists made contact with noses and bottles were being thrown. I decided it was time to step in and command order, knowing they were bound to obey the Rector of St James the Less. Approaching one gentleman who was wielding a bottle, I took it from him and then held it aloft above his own head, to demonstrate how threatening such a pose looked.

Unfortunately, that was the moment the police arrived, who, unlike our local village constable, were deaf to explanations. Were our churchwarden, Lord Jelleby, to have been on the bench that day, matters could have been settled quite amicably. It was not to be; you may enthusiastically pass the peace in your church; I am now bound over to keep it.

Your loving uncle, Eustace

GOOD NEWS

I am happy to report that an apology has been made to the Vicar in person for the vandalism that happened last August. The youth involved and his parents are extremely sorry for the incident, and he has promised to come and help with some work round church or in the churchyard in the future. The Vicar has also gratefully received a cheque to cover his part of the cost of this damage.

Chris Smith Churchwarden

Just to add my own note to the good news above, it was heartening to meet with parents who so obviously care for their family, and to meet a young man who is prepared to admit when he has made a mistake, and to offer to 'make amends' for the damage caused. We all make mistakes and we have all be young once. I feel that there have been lessons learnt all round as a result of this incident, and I am so pleased that the church remains open every day for people to visit.

PEOPLE PROFILE - JULIA ROUTLEDGE

I was born in Düsseldorf, West Germany, where I lived for 7 years, and "No!" – My parents weren't involved with the military. I then grew up in Sale, Cheshire before we moved again to Rochdale, Lancashire in my teenage years. This was when I first started to really encounter boys as I had previously gone to an All Girls Grammar School, and now was going to a mixed comprehensive. Here I started doing back stage work, painting scenery and making props for the school productions – I love anything to do with art and craft. If I have a spare minute, I enjoy cross-stitch and other forms of embroidery.

Having failed most of my A levels, I went to Merchant Navy College in Brooks Bar, Manchester, graduating as a Radio Officer and Radar Technician. Unfortunately, it was in the days when woman weren't allowed to go to sea, and the coast stations were starting to use remote equipment. Instead I ended up joining the Civil Service, and have been working for them for 29 years. I still travelled around, working in Milton Keynes, Scarborough, Hong Kong, Taunton, Loughborough, and Bedford. I married my husband, David, who is a dairy engineer in 1992 and we moved to Wiveliscombe, Somerset. It was my work that caused us to move to Badsey, just over a year ago – the village being in an ideal location where he could follow me but still keep his job as he is based out of Lutterworth, Leicestershire.

I have always been involved in Guiding, both as a girl and a leader. It has allowed me to settle down quickly where ever I move to, but it has also given me loads of opportunities to share my skills as well as providing me with lots of challenges. Some of the projects I have been involved in are: setting up a Brownie Unit in an SOS village in South Africa, working with Vietnamese boat children, building houses in Mexico, helping to resurrect the Guiding and Scouting movement in Czechoslovakia after the Velvet Revolution, working with families with leprosy or who had been in prison in India and working with the Suzanne Murbarak Peace Foundation in Egypt, plus the odd camp or pack holiday in the UK or overseas. Dave says that I can probably cook better on an open fire, than I can in a kitchen on gas or electric. I love camping, walking and anything to do with the out-of-doors. At the moment, I am getting to know the county by taking part in the Trefoil Guild centenary challenge to visit 100 places in Worcestershire. I am also Eagle Owl – one of the assistant Guiders with 1st Badsey Brownies, plus a member of Evesham Scout Fellowship.
