Lest We Forget

From the Royal British Legion

Remembrance Sunday is part of our modern history and it is so encouraging to see that it is being taught in schools.

Badsey First School is a primary example of this as the children are actively involved with projects relating to World War II and even hold their own memorial service where they invite members of the Royal British Legion, men and women along. This includes a standard bearer and a cenotaph (model of course) where a poppy wreath is laid.

Remembrance Sunday parade from the Royal British Legion club also involves the youth groups in the village, Cubs, Scouts, Brownies, Guides and others. These groups all have their own standards and bearers.

The parade is led by the men and women of Badsey Branch proceeded by their standards.

Each year a group of ladies and guests travel to London to see the Festival of Remembrance at the Royal Albert Hall, which is shown on TV.

Val Taylor

This years service of Remembrance will be held Sunday the 10th November. The parade will start from Badsey Royal British Legion at 10.40am arriving at the church at 10.45am for the service which will be lead by Revd. Richard Court.

From the young people

Remembrance

This is about remembering the men who fought and died in world war I and II who gave their life for us and fought for their country and about the people who were affected by it including the families.

Some of the men were very young; they were all brave and courageous and at times scared and frightened.

A poppy is worn to let us reflect on what they went through and what they gave. The poppy was one of the only plants to grow on the barren battlefields and represent blood and grief.

War

See pain, feel pain
Mud and darkness
Tired and agony
Guns and screams
Dead bodies and its cold

Men cry with pain,
This tight cramped space is driving me insane
Cigarette and bomb smoke fills the air
Gun shots are fired, I sit and stare
So many people shout and scream
But these are my men and this is my team

Dead bodies are all I can smell
I can feel my feet are beginning to swell
I sit here cold and alone
I wonder if I'll be here when I get old
So many people shout and scream
But these are my men and this is my team

Bullet after bullet men fire
My only sight is mud and barbed wire
Men scabble over the top
Second later having to drop
So many people shout and scream
But they were my men and they were my team

2 Letter For The Month from The Revd Richard Court

Dear All,

As we enter the month of November with the clocks having gone back an hour our thoughts turn autumnal and to the season of All Saints, All Souls and Remembrance. All Saints is a time to celebrate the Saints who have gone before us while at All Souls we particularly remember loved ones departed, and at Remembrance we give thanks for all those who gave their lives so that we might enjoy the freedom which we have. In the words of the Kohima Epitaph —When you go home, tell them of us and say, for their tomorrow, we gave our today War is an abomination, it is – or at least should be - the last resort after everything else has failed. What then is the churches stance on war? Well the early church for probably the first 300 years or so was strongly pacifist. Using phrases such as "do not go forth as soldiers"; and "only without the sword can the Christian wage war: for the Lord has abolished the sword. It was from about the year 314 that Christian philosophers began to formulate the doctrine of what is called the Just War. The theory (in its simplest form) has six headings which specify conditions for judging if it is just to go to war, and conditions for how the war should be fought, and although it was extensively developed by Christian theologians, it can be used by people of every faith and none. The headings are: (1) Just cause - the war must confront an unquestioned danger. (2) Proper authority - the legitimate authority must declare the war and must be acting on behalf of the people. (3) Right Intention - the reasons for declaring the war must actually be the objectives, not a masking of ulterior motives. (4) Last Resort - all reasonable peaceful alternatives must have been exhausted or have been deemed impractical or ineffective. The contentious parties must strive to resolve their differences peacefully before engaging in war, e.g. through negotiation, mediation, or even embargoes. (5) Proportionality - the good that is achieved by waging war must not be outweighed by the harm. What good is it to wage war if it leaves the country in total devastation with no one really being the winner? (6) Probability of success - the achievement of the war's purpose must have a reasonable chance of success. In the words from Archbishops Desmond Tutu and Justin Welby: any intervention must provide an outcome which improves the chances of long term peace and reconciliation and the crisis needs to be resolved through "human intervention, not military intervention". And so as Remembrance draws near we remember with grateful hearts those who gave their lives in the service of others and we pray for peace. We will remember them.

The Round Robin group is in need of support if this group is to continue next year, not financial; but bodies through my door. We have a meeting on 21st November and another on 19th December both of these will be social events. With so few attending now, there is little else I can organise; but we seem to have plenty to talk about just the same.

Please support the group it is harder to restart a group once it ceases to be on an agenda, and I am trying hard not to have to take that action. We meet at 2.30p.m at my home 16 Binyon Close Badsey. There are very few places in society that offer open conversation tea and biscuits for 50p!

WAR MEMORIAL TABLET

The design for the Tablet has been approved by the Diocesan Advisory Committee, and a Faculty has been applied for. It is disappointing, however, to report that at the moment only about half the estimated cost of the Tablet has been covered by subscriptions. Will intending subscribers please send their gifts as soon as possible to Mr. J. E. Knight or Mr. P. H. Sparrow.

With all the lovely weather we have been having, it is difficult to think into November the month of Fogs etc.

Our visiting teams have done us proud making up for the very hit and miss practise and service ringing.

Our next thoughts will be hopefully towards Christmas - where has the year gone - and encouraging enough ringers to take part in a very packed schedule. If only we could encourage a few more to come and take part in this very interesting past time!!!

Mothers' UNION

Christian care for families

We were joined at October's meeting by former Diocesan President, Margaret Penn who spoke about making The Mothers' Union relevant today. Margaret told us of successful literacy project being run in Africa by MU members, prison projects, where members are working with families at visiting times, members also work with staff at maternity wards supporting families. We also heard about new Away from it all projects, families who have been through difficult times are sent on holiday by the MU. We have seen our members involved in knitting projects. Also many MU groups are involved with local food banks as we are with Caring Hands in the Vale. Margaret said members of MU work lovingly but quietly within their community supporting family life. Finally Margaret told us that all these projects need the support of member's prayers.

4 Coronation Street Disabled Club

Friday 4th October was a very special day for the Coronation Street Disabled Club when they celebrated their 30th Anniversary with a big party for 70 people at the Badsey Remembrance Hall. As well as members and helpers, guests included some who had actually started up the Club all those years ago and others who had helped them in various ways.

The afternoon began with a welcome from their President Pat Gibson, who had been the Club's first chairman. This was followed by a DVD produced by John and Will Dallimore of chairman Jean Dyke in which she talked of many of the events that had happened over the years and how important the Club was to all its members and helpers.

Another DVD featuring member Eddy Erskin when he visited Buckingham Palace to receive his MBE from the Queen was shown. Eddy is a remarkable character and although only having one leg and many complaints, he is always cheerful and the life and soul of any party.

After tea which was provided by Fiesta Cakes the Dallimore's showed us their famous and hilarious 'Doug Deep - A Journey Through Asum Grammar' Our thanks are due to Will and John Dallimore, Mary Callaghan (our treasurer) for running a very successful raffle with the help of Irene Carter, Bridget Walker and Sue Joyce and to all who came to help us celebrate this special event.

A Big Thank You

I am sure, like me, many of you have been impressed with the lovely flower display in the old fountain in Badsey High Street. This has been planted, watered and tended all through the summer and has now been replaced by some very pretty pansies.

Surely a very big thank you is due to Keith and Sheila Taylor, the two unsung hero's who have carried out which does really does make a difference to the look of High Street.

Horsebridge Avenue-Play Area.

Thank you to the many residents and children that attended the open afternoon on 4th September 2013 to look at the plans for the play area at Remembrance Hall. The feedback was very positive and there were some really good suggestions and ideas for the area. The youth bus was a huge success.

A new litter bin is due to be installed next to the kickwall at Horsebridge Avenue.

Caring Hands in the Vale.

There is a collection box located in Badsey church which collects provisions for the food bank at Caring Hands in the Vale, Evesham, anyone in Badsey is welcome to donate here for onward delivery to families that need help in the Vale. Badsey PC would welcome any suggestions to how it can help.

Litter Pick.

Thank you to Badsey Guides who took part in a village litter pick in September 2013, they did a fantastic job and collected 10 bags of rubbish. PLEASE can we ensure that we try and maintain their high standard around the village.

Woodland Trust Trees.

Free trees from Woodland Trust will be arriving in Badsey between 4th and 8th November 2013 for planting around the village by local groups. If you have any ideas on where they can be planted, please contact the Parish Clerk.

FAMILY HISTORY EVENING

Friday 29th November, 7.30 pm, The Wheatsheaf

Are you interested in family history? Do you want help in your researches? If the answer is yes, then why not come along to our special workshop when a panel of experts will be on hand to give guidance and advice. There will also be the opportunity to view subscription websites such as Find My Past, Ancestry and the British Newspaper Archive. The war-time National Farm Survey, which transcribers worked on earlier in the year, will also be available to view. If you have items of interest relating to your own family, then why not bring them along. This is an informal evening, giving members the opportunity to chat and drink whilst learning more about family history. Free to members, non-members £1.

Women's Section

The monthly meeting of Badsey Aldington & Wickhamford branch of the Royal British Legion Women's section for September always takes the form of a Harvest Festival. This year was no exception. Richard Court came along once again to conduct our service which he had also compiled and printed for us. The ladies always look forward to his visit and 'book' him in advance annually. Some times he is not available the week of our meeting due to other commitments, but we are only too willing to change our dates for him. Due to our pianist Pat Gorin having 'eye problems' she was unable to accompany the singing but we managed particular as some members belong to the church choir and some others belonging in the past.

After attending to the official Legion business after our service the ladies enjoyed a Ploughman's supper as refreshments this evening.

We asked Richard if he would be judge to our Anniversary competition which was CRYSTAL, which he found quite difficult with the numerous items the ladies had brought

In the end he chose the boxed presentation glasses that Iris Syril was presented with on her retirement.

The chairman thanked the members for bringing such a good selection of Harvest Produce along this evening. This was then auctioned off. Good laugh and fun ,you've never seen an auction like this one!!From the proceeds £20.00 was given to the church.

Although our meetings deal with Legion Business it is also a social night out when we all enjoy ourselves,even our speakers remark on what a good crowd we are and just enjoy.

Any one are welcome to come along and see for yourselves, NO connection with the armed forces are required.

We meet usually the 4th Wednesday in the month in the small lounge of the Legion Club ,Badsey 7.30pm.

October was our AGM, but November we will be having a lady demonstrating Flower arranging. December Wed 18th and Badsey are hosts to the Group 2 meeting in the large room,an evening to start off the Christmas festivities.

All Souls Service

Every year at the beginning of November we remember all those who have died, at this moving and special evening service. The names of those who have died over the last year are read out, in addition to which, names of others who have died previously can be added. If you would like a name of a family member or friend to be included please add the name of the person to be remembered to the list by the font in church or contact one of the Ministry team. During the service there will be an opportunity to light a candle in their memory. All are welcome - this years service is 3rd November at 6.30pm.

At Badsey Brownies on the 18th September the Brownies had an Indian Night! They all did exciting activities such as dressing up, drawing patterns on their hands and playing Indian games.

One of the games was to kick a ball with one foot, hopping on one foot and trying to push the ball around the course. It was played by many Indian people and most of the Brownies loved it.

One other was to build up an Indian elephant using a dice hoping to roll a number you needed. It was quite hard because many Brownies couldn't roll the number they wanted to start off.

When it came to dressing up every Brownie was excited! They had many pieces of material with detailed patterns on them and turned into a dress. The Brownies had to wrap the material around them to form a dress, which looked mostly like a toga (Greek clothing). After they had dressed up as Indian women they all put on a small pattern on their forehead.

Every Indian lady looks beautiful with a tattoo! The Brownies all did a pattern on the hands and special face paint pencils. Some of the Brownies' patterns were beautiful and some of them made up their own patterns. Very creative!

The Brownies all made and designed an Indian Elephant with different coloured chalks. At the end every Brownie was offered some coconut Indian pudding, which looked like rice, and most of the Brownies loved it! Most of the Brownies ask for seconds and were offered thirds!! Every Brownie enjoyed the day and loved all the fun activities. They are probably all looking forward to next week!

£160 RAISED

Badsey Brownies held a Coffee Evening to raise funds for McMillan Cancer Care. They all became waitresses for the evening, carrying tea, coffee and cakes to parents and friends. A large table was spread with an array of cakes made by the girls and their families. The table was bare at the end of the evening apart from a few crumbs that we left for the guides. The brownies helped to clear tables, wash up and sweep the hall. Thanks go to all parents, family and friends who came and supported the girls and made donations totalling £160 which has been sent to McMillan Cancer Care.

Kingdom values

Love, compassion, justice and freedom. These are the values that will bring about the kingdom of God on Earth.

As part of the 2020 Vision Group, set up by the Bishop's Council to discern what God's vision is for the diocese, we launched Kingdom People in 2011. Kingdom People is an initiative to aid churches in living out the Gospel in practical, meaningful ways - making an impact on the world around them.

Focusing on the 8 priorities

Over the coming months, we're focusing on the values and priorities of being 'Kingdom People'.

Each month we'll be looking at a different aspect of Kingdom People, drawing on the 8 priorities that Bishop John has introduced.

We'll be providing you with video interviews, articles, resources and ideas and more to help inspire and bless you.
