

DEATH OF MRS. ALLSEBROOK

VICAR OF BADSEY BEREAVED.

It is with deep regret that we record the death of Mrs. Allsebrook, at Badsey Vicarage on Tuesday. Mrs. Allsebrook had been ill for a long time and had not been able to leave the house since October. Everyone who knew Mrs. Allsebrook will feel the very greatest sympathy with Canon Allsebrook and his children, who were devoted to her.

Mrs. Allsebrook had been unable to take much part in parish work during the last few years, but she still kept up her interest and although unable to get out she chose the prizes for the Sunday School last Christmas. The Sunday School she kept going for many years, and it was always a delight to see her distributing presents to the choirboys on great festivals. Brought up in the old-fashioned way, she was most conscientious in all she undertook, and if after thought she decided that a certain course of action was right, she would pursue that course in spite of any sacrifice it might entail. A very useful work she did was the formation of a library for the parish, which was much appreciated.

Evelyn Kate Allsebrook was the only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hands, of Badsey, and formerly of Stratford-on-Avon. She was married at Solihull on June 24, 1909. There are two children, William Basil James and Evelyn Joyce Carmont.

The funeral was arranged to take place at Badsey this (Friday) afternoon at 2.30 p.m.
