ARMISTICE DAY.

Service at 10.50 a.m.

At 11 a.m. Silence for two minutes, the congregation standing : to be followed by :—

Hymn : "The Supreme Sacrifice."

O Valiant Hearts, who to your glory came
Through dust of conflict and through battle-flame ;
Tranquil you lie, your knightly virtue proved,
Your memory hallowed in the Land you loved.

Proudly you gathered, rank on rank to war,
As who had heard God's message from afar ;
All you had hoped for, all you had, you gave
To save Mankind—yourselves you scorned to save.

Splendid you passed, the great surrender made,
Into the light that nevermore shall fade ;
Deep your contentment in that blest abode,
Who wait the last clear trumpet-call of God.

Long years ago, as earth lay dark and still,
Rose a loud cry upon a lonely hill,
While in the frailty of our human clay,
Christ, our Redeemer, passed the self-same way.

Still stands His Cross from that dread hour to this,
Like some bright star above the dark abyss ;
Still, through the veil, the Victor's pitying eyes
Look down to bless our lesser Calvaries.

These were His servants, in His steps they trod,
Following through death the martyr'd Son of God :
Victor He rose ; victorious too shall rise
They who have drunk His cup of Sacrifice.

O risen Lord, O Shepherd of our Dead,
Whose Cross has bought them and whose Staff has led—
In glorious hope their proud and sorrowing Land
Commits her Children to Thy gracious Hand.

Sir JOHN ARKWRIGHT.

Psalm : 46.

First Lesson : Isaiah xi, 1-9

Te Deum : Stanford in A.

Second Lesson : Revelation vii, 9 to end.

Benedictus : Turle in A, 44.

Crotch (1797-1847).

Hymn : No. 100. Bach (551). Round the Lord
in glory seated. Bishop Mant (1776-1848).

Hymn after Sermon : "City of God."

City of God, how broad and far
Outspread thy walls sublime !
The true thy chartered freemen are
Of every age and clime.

One holy Church, one army strong,
One steadfast, high intent ;
One working band, one harvest-song,
One King Omnipotent.

How purely hath thy speech come down
From man's primæval youth !
How grandly hath thine empire grown
Of freedom, love and truth !

How gleam thy watch-fires through the night
With never-fainting ray !
How rise thy towers, serene and bright,
To meet the dawning day !

In vain the surge's angry shock,
In vain the drifting sands :
Unharm'd upon the eternal Rock
The eternal City stands.

S. JOHNSON (1822-1882).

THE NATIONAL ANTHEM.

(1685-1750).

Jesu, joy of man's desiring,
Holy Wisdom, Love most bright,
Drawn by Thee, our souls aspiring,
Soar to uncreated light.

Word of God, our flesh that fashion'd
With the fire of life impassion'd,
Striving still to Truth unknown,
Soaring, dying round Thy throne.

LINCOLN'S INN CHAPEL

Note on the Building

Built 1620 to 1623, to the design of Inigo Jones.

Its foundation stone was laid by John Donne, the poet, while still Preacher to the Society.

The Chapel was consecrated on Ascension Day, 1623, by the Bishop of London (George Mountain), the "excellent sermon about dedications" (so described in a contemporary record) being preached by John Donne, who by this date had become Dean of St. Paul's.

The Chapel was lengthened and re-roofed under the superintendence of Lord Grimthorpe in 1882-1883.

The side windows are by Bernard Van Linge, and are contemporary with the original building. The East window contains the arms of the Treasurers of the Society from 1680 to 1908. In the centre of the bottom row are the arms of His Majesty King George, as Prince of Wales, Treasurer in 1904. The arms of the later Treasurers are in the East window on the North side, the arms of certain former "Readers," and worthies of the Inn, in the East window on the South side. All the windows were badly broken by a bomb from a German Zeppelin, which missed the Chapel by a few feet, on the 13th of October, 1915. Most of these proved capable of repair, their broken fragments being fitted together with great labour, but in two cases the destruction was complete. The West window has been left in its broken condition, with a shield of clear glass outside, as a memorial of the event.
