NOTE

This note has no legal force as part of the scheme but shows the kind of relief that the charity can properly give.

Relief in Need

Charities for relief in need operate in the same field as statutory services; trustees who administer such charities should be careful to avoid repeating or abating those services. Charity trustees should accordingly acquaint themselves with the system of social benefits, the effect upon them of grants from charitable sources and the gaps left by them which can be filled by charitable services or facilities to relieve those in need.

By consulting local officers of the Department of Health and Social Security and those in the Social Services Department of the local authority concerned with persons in need, the trustees may learn what assistance and services these authorities can give in particular circumstances whether by way of special grants or otherwise and may also be able to find out about people living within the charity's area of benefit who have needs which the statutory services are unable to relieve completely. In this way the trustees may ensure that a regular allowance from the charity or the provision of some item or facility will not affect supplementary benefits available from the Department of Health and Social Security in a given case.

Charity trustees should not regard themselves as being confined to giving relief in those cases of need which are also eligible for supplementary benefits or as being limited to providing those items which have been allowed for in calculating the amount of supplementary payments.

The provisions of the scheme give the trustees a wide choice in the sort of relief that they can give out of the income of the charity so long as the need is clear. Whatever relief they give must be given only to assist the kind of persons mentioned, must be related to the needs of each case, and must be reasonable in the circumstances, taking into account what relief is available from other sources. Some examples follow and others may occur to trustees:

1. Grants of money to or for the benefit of such persons in the form of -
 - (a) weekly allowances for a limited period to meet a particular need, or
 - (b) special payments to relieve sudden distress, sickness, or infirmity, or
 - (c) payment of travelling expenses for such persons entering or leaving hospitals, convalescent homes or similar institutions, or for relatives visiting such persons in such institutions particularly where more frequent visits are desirable than payments from public funds will allow, or
 - (d) subscriptions to secure the admission of such persons (or to benefit such persons when admitted) to almshouses, or to homes or hostels for the residence or care of old, infirm or homeless persons.

2. The provision of items for such persons which may well be -
 - (a) gifts of furniture, bedding, clothing, food, fuel, heating appliances, or
 - (b) loans of expensive apparatus (which may be more appropriate than outright gifts) such as radio or television sets for widows with large families.

3. The provision of facilities for such persons such as -
 - (a) the supply of tools or books or payment of fees for instruction or examination or travelling expenses so as to help them to earn their living, or
 - (b) arrangements for a recuperative holiday or change of air for those long deprived of this.

Further examples follow of the sort of help that can be given in particular when such persons are also old, sick, convalescent, disabled, handicapped or infirm, whether mentally or physically:

4. The provision of items either outright or, if expensive and appropriate, on loan, such as
 - (a) special food, medical or other aids, nursing requisites or comforts;
 - (b) television or radio sets for the lonely, bedridden or housebound;
 - (c) television licences;
 - (d) washing machines suitable for soiled clothing and bed linen.
5. The provision of services such as bathing, escort services, exchange of library books, foot care, gardening, hair washing, shaving, help in the home, house decorating and repairs, laundering, meals on wheels, nursing aid, outings and entertainments, physiotherapy in the home, reading, shopping, sitting-in, tape-recording for the housebound, travelling companions.
6. The provision of facilities such as transportation, or arrangements for a period of rest, recuperating or change of air in or through any convalescent home or other institution or organisation or for temporary relief for those having the care of the person concerned or arrangements for close relatives to visit or care for patients.

The trustees may either pay directly for such items, services or facilities, or advance money to beneficiaries so that they can do so.
