

St. James' Church
Badsey with Aldington

Flower Festival

24th - 25th June 2000

CELEBRATIONS

Programmes £1.00

Welcome to the Parish Church of St. James Badsey with Aldington. The oldest part of the building dates back to Norman times and, like most historic Churches, it has been added to and modified over the centuries. Today, the building is used for worship twice on most Sundays of the year, together with a great many Baptisms, Weddings and Funerals as well as children's workshops and visits by the village school.

The flower displays this weekend have been prepared by the members of the St. James Flower Guild, to whom we are most grateful for all their hard work and skill, not only on this special occasion, but also throughout the whole year. To the casual onlooker, Church flowers are seen to come and go week by week, but a great deal of time, effort and thought goes into producing the displays which we see.

As you go about the building, remember that it is a place of worship. Also note that a number of the moveable objects have been moved to allow for the displays. If anything seems to be in a strange place, then that is probably why.
