INTRODUCTION

Past Surveys

In the 1980s and 1990s members of the Birmingham and Midland Society for Genealogy and Heraldry embarked on the mammoth task of recording all the monumental inscriptions in the churches and churchyards throughout the Midland Counties of Staffordshire, Warwickshire, Worcestershire and the West Midlands. The B.M.S.G.H. was a member of the Federation of Family History Societies whose long term plan was to record such inscriptions throughout the country. I was involved in several of the Worcestershire surveys which are an invaluable source of genealogical information for those who are researching their family histories. However, no stone cleaning or movement of monuments was permitted during these surveys nor were the burials registers consulted to establish the facts gleaned from the monuments, resulting in many errors coming to light. As so rightly written on all these surveys "It must be appreciated that the accuracy of this transcription cannot be guaranteed in view of the problems which arise in dealing with old gravestones and various interpretations of the inscriptions thereon. Those who find a stone that might be relevant to their research should endeavour to examine it for themselves." I must also mention another dedicated team of volunteers, The Worcestershire Parish Record Society, who in 2007, with the support of the Worcestershire Archive, photographed all the Worcestershire Parish Registers. These are currently being transcribed, including the Parishes which were transferred with the changes of the boundaries in the 1900s to Gloucestershire and Herefordshire. I have found their databases invaluable for my research on the old Bengeworth church and for a future volume on Hampton. For those embarking on a study of local parish records I would recommend a visit to their web site at mfhs.org.uk/worcestershire-parish-records/.

I have carried out independent surveys of some of the local cemeteries, churches and churchyards previously researched, including the survey of Bengeworth which was first carried out by the B.M.S.G.H. team in 1991. Unlike all previous surveys I photographed all the monuments as well the church exteriors and interiors, along with any fixtures and fittings that will enhance my publications. Where available I also checked the burial registers for each site in order to establish that the information provided on the monuments matches that in the registers, and to provide additional information which will be of use to family historians.

Present Survey

This survey is in four parts commencing with the old church, formerly known as the Church of the Blessed Trinity, which at one time dominated an area in Church Street; the new St. Peter's Church in Port Street; Bengeworth Cemetery on Broadway Road; and the Bengeworth drinking fountain, along with some notes about its benefactor Henry Burlingham.

As I intend to publish a more detailed account of Bengeworth cemetery at a later date this section contains only a very brief history of the cemetery, and a selection of plates, but importantly, and for the family historian, I have included an index of all the interments here to the end of 2014.

Before starting this survey I read all available literature regarding the old and new churches in Bengeworth, which are listed below. Work began in the old churchyard where much rubbish had accumulated over the years, consisting mainly of drink cans and bottles and broken glass. Despite the presence of a waste bin within the grounds, some dog owners are not cleaning up after their dogs, and a few individuals have allowed their pets to dig holes which have resulted in a number of human bones being found on the surface. Following the clean up of the area, including inside the porch of the bell tower, the memorial stones, churchyard and surrounds were then photographed, followed by visits elsewhere to photograph the objects and materials known to have been removed from the old church. Local buildings and surrounds were then examined for evidence of church or Evesham Abbey material that may have been used during their construction. I suspect most of the material observed came from the Evesham Abbey site, which became a stone quarry after its demise and a valuable local source of building material.

The interior and exterior of the new church of St. Peter's was then surveyed, including the Garden of Rest. The latter exercise involved photographing all the stones, recording all the inscriptions, producing a new map of the layout of the garden, and providing a database of names of those whose ashes are currently known to be interred here. Photography at this site proved to be a challenge, particularly where protective wire mesh has been fitted externally to the windows in order to protect the glass from vandalism which is so prevalent these days; the mesh itself having accumulated much detritus over the years. The new extension to St. Peter's Church is now blocking much of the light falling on the exterior of several of the windows, and the plates provided for these in this book are not up to the standard of the others. Internally many churches are in need of a spring clean, including St. Peter's, with many spiders webs as well as bat and other dropping now clearly visible on some of the monuments, particularly those out of reach. Health and Safety regulations now in force prevent any individual from simply climbing a ladder and removing the offending debris.

Acknowledgements

This survey would not have been possible without the help and support of others. I first thank Evesham Town Council, in particular Town Clerk, Stuart Carter, for permission to carry out research at the old church and use of burials registers in his care. For permission to research at St. Peter's Church I thank the present incumbent the Revd. Mark Binney and parish administrator Elaine Major. Thanks are also due to the church Verger Pat Masters for her help and patience during my visits. The Staff at the Hive, in Worcester and Evesham Public Library were always welcoming during my visits to carry out research for which I thank them. I also thank the Evesham Journal (A Newsquest Publication) for permission to quote from the various articles gleaned from the Journals, and The Religious Society of Friends (Evesham Quaker Meeting) whose web pages were a valuable source of information regarding the Burlingham family, and for permission to photograph the memorial stones in their Peace Garden in Evesham. A special thank you to the Worcestershire Parish Record Society, in particular Elaine Baker and John Stoney, for providing me with the Bengeworth Parish Records databases. I also thank local historian John Wilson for some stimulating conversations regarding the history of Bengeworth, leading to new information which has proved useful during my research. Chris Warren (of Chris Warren Photographic, Evesham), as always, freely gave invaluable information regarding photographic equipment and techniques for which I thank him. And for scrutinising my photographs and text, constructive criticism, and help in many ways I thank local photographer, and friend, Bert Dyde.

Finally I thank John Perkins and my son Stephen who greatly helped during cleaning and photographing exercises.

THE CHURCH OF THE BLESSED TRINITY

History

The history of the church is dealt with only briefly here as its building and demise has been adequately described in detail in Shawcross (1927), whose History of Bengeworth tells us that The church was built presumably by the Abbots of Evesham towards the end of the twelfth century or early in the thirteenth century, for the convenience of the people of Bengeworth, who then numbered two hundred or thereabouts'. The church originally was dedicated to the Blessed Trinity and mentioned as such in early Bengeworth wills preserved in the Worcester Probate Registry. Both Robert Ordway, (will dated 29th July 1536), and his wife Agnes (will dated 8th April 1537), direct their bodies to be buried in the churchyard of the Blessed Trinity, Bengeworth. After the Dissolution the dedication seems to have been forgotten, and in many other instances, and later on it was attributed as being dedicated to Almighty God and in honour of St. Peter. The church met its demise in 1870 and today the site is a walk through park area still surrounded by most of the original wall. The porch of the bell tower still survives protected by a more recent slate roof; its bells having been recast and installed in the new St. Peter's church tower in 1875. Among the materials saved from the old church and installed in the new includes the font, an elaborate John Deacle monument, four mural tablets and a coffin plate; the monument and tablets being unveiled in 1922 by Mr. Shawcross on the fiftieth anniversary of the consecration of the new church. A stone cross in the Garden of Rest is presumed to have also been recovered from the old church. According to Shawcross 'The seventeenth century altar rails balusters formed part of an oak table which was in north transept of Hampton Church, Evesham'. This table has since found its way into Bengeworth church. A window was purchased and installed in Norton church, as well as material for the building of a stone gateway and a stone sedilia. Some of the original stonework from the old church may have been incorporated into the fabric of local buildings, and two stone pillars at the entrance to the drive way of a local building opposite the present St. Peter's Church in Port Street may also have originated from this source.

The Churchyard

It was during the building of a 5 foot high wall around the whole of the church and churchyard between 1823 - 1829 that it became apparent that the churchyard, and under the floor of the church, was overcrowded with burials with no chance of enlarging it. However it was not until 1855 a notice was issued by Sir George Grey, one of H.M. Secretaries of State which ordered: "burials to be discontinued forthwith in the Baptist Burial Ground in the parish of Bengeworth, and on and after June 1st 1856, in the parish churchyard of St. Peter's, Bengeworth, except in now existing graves reserved for the exclusive use of families, which can be opened without the disturbance of undecayed remains and in graves which have never been previously opened. All graves to be at least 5½ feet deep and, except in family vaults and brick graves every body buried in which shall be embedded in powdered charcoal and separately entombed in an air tight manner." Dated Aug. 30 1855. However due to delays the closing date of the cemetery was extended until September 29th 1856, with further extensions until April 1857. The Baptist burial ground mentioned in the above order is now covered over by the car park in Northwick Road.

The Monumental Inscriptions

In the index of the second, 1845, edition of his book 'The History of Evesham', local historian George May provided a list of the various monuments, mural tablets and ledgers inside the old church but ignored those in the churchyard. This challenge was taken up by another local historian E.A.B. Barnard who compiled a list of the inscriptions in the churchyard and published these in the January 1909 edition of the Evesham Journal under Notes & Queries. During a later visit, in 1899, he did note that owing to weathering of the stones and other causes, several inscriptions had since disappeared and many had gone before the copy was made. My own examination of a number of stones in 1991 still face up revealed that Barnard did not fully read the stones or produce them verbatim. He also overlooked some stones with obvious inscriptions and understandably misread some facts. I have reproduced both the Shawcross and May's lists here but added the additional inscriptions, along with my own notes, in italics, and unreadable text in square brackets. Where I have photographed and featured the stone in this publication the relevant plate numbers appear alongside the surnames. All but a few stones are today lying face down around the perimeter of the churchyard and on the floor of the porch. Other small fragments are located in nearby gardens, a few adorning a garden patio, but these are not identifiable to any individuals. Three stones have since found their way to the rear garden of the present St. Peter's church.

The Registers

The baptism, marriage and burial registers from the old church still survive and are available for research at The Hive, in Worcestershire, or, as previously mentioned in the introduction via the Worcester Parish Record Society. In addition, if one is only interested in the burials, The National Burial Index (NBI) for England and Wales is available for purchase, the current addition being known as NB13. The CD contains over 18.4 million entries, which have been harvested from some 9,100 locations in 50 counties. Sources include parish registers, bishops' transcripts and earlier transcripts of printed registers, as well as the records of cemetery and crematoria. Most of the index entries have been transcribed by members of the family history societies. However coverage for Bengeworth is only from 1668 to 1851, with some missing years. Comparing the entries for Bengeworth provided by the NBI and those produced by the Worcestershire Parish Record Society, I can only advise that one must consult the original document for accuracy as there are many differences as to names and dates between the two indexes, but understandably due to the condition of some of these early registers, the poor handwriting and missing or illegible sections of some of the original documents. The registers themselves appear to be copies of the originals as they are all in English, written in various forms of script. I have, with great difficulty, attempted to decipher the entries from photographs of the original pages from the early registers, and concluded there were, from 1538 to 1856, 4408 interments with known single burials there 1896 and 1901. These latter burials involving Margaret Beale Cooper and Louisa Beale Cooper who joined 24 other Cooper family members known to be interred here. However there are gaps in the register, none recorded from 1620 to 1652, with one burial each in 1653 to 1655 and then a gap until 1668. So it is most likely that several more hundreds of burials can be added to the figure I have given, and small wonder it was so necessary to restrict burials there and create a new burial site. I have included the burial index in this section but excluded most of those entries that are unreadable or incomplete.

The highest mortality years were 1557-1559 when there were 138 interments, 52 in 1599 and 46 in 1615. However, the highest number of deaths recorded was 80 in 1727, with a further 46 in 1728, both years widely known as famine years with many papers published on the affect it had on local populations. Many authors concluded that it was not high price of cereals and potatoes alone which necessitated the imports from Hamburg and America, but it was also evident that epidemic disease was responsible, affecting mainly the adult population. It is unfortunate that most of the early local burials registers do not give the ages of the deceased to enable one to determine what age groups in Bengeworth were affected during this period. In the parish of Middle and North Littleton it was recorded in the parish register for 1727 that the fever proved 'very mortal'. It is believed that typhus was the main cause of death here, as well as elsewhere in South-West Worcestershire. Evesham itself did not escape the epidemic with a total of 350 burials between 1727-1729 in the parishes of St. Lawrence and All Saints, and 70 burials, mainly in 1728, during the same period at Hampton. It is also interesting to note that disease was also prevalent in 1727 as far away as St. Kilda, in the Hebrides, where on this occasion smallpox, or chickenpox, had killed 80-90% of the local malnourished population.

Plan of the old church and churchyard showing the present locations of the gated entrances; B was originally the only entrance to the churchyard and once stood where A is now situated. The church itself measured 75 feet from the west door of the bell tower porch to the east window of the chancel, and its breadth 55 feet. The tower with the spire was 70 feet in height, almost half the height of the tower and spire of the new church which is 133 feet.

Two early images of the old church. Due to complaints of wilful damage done to the graves and tomb stones the building of the surrounding 5 foot high brick wall started in 1823 but not completed until 1829. Although said to have been well built the wall was in need of constant repair from 1839 onwards.

Old (1865) and present views of the church. The pillars and gateway shown in the old photograph are now situated at the entrance at the far end of the pathway.

Old and new SE view of the churchyard, the remains of the bell tower well hidden by the trees.

Front view of the surviving tower porch showing grotesques and other stone adornments.

Views of the porch showing part of the original surrounding wall and the more recently added secure gated rear entrance.

The interior of the porch.

The interior of the porch showing one of the slit windows and the later added slate roof. The ancient chiselled-ended iron nail, measuring 155mm, was found while clearing away rubbish from inside the building .

Archway at Norton church made up of material from the old church.

Other materials from the old church and now in Norton church is a stone sedilia and a window in the north wall of the nave. The window was purchased by the Vicar of Norton the Rev. N. G. Batt.

Recycled stone incorporated into local buildings and used for pillars in Port Street, some possibly originating from the old church.

Headstones lying flat around the perimeter of the churchyard [A], some of those face up are unreadable [B] and others were used to create a floor for the porch [C].

The Acton mural tablet, now on the wall of the new church, and some of the stones from the Acton vault.

Stones against the wall at the back of the new church. [A] Headstone for Dorothy Tayler, the oldest surviving headstone from the old churchyard, [B] footstone inscribed J C & S C and [C] headstone for Mary Parker

A reported 25 trees were brought down in Worcestershire during strong winds in May 2013, including this ancient chestnut tree in the old churchyard, seriously damaging the old wall and a nearby parked car.

Some of the remaining trees in the churchyard, one with a gnarled trunk. Most of these were planted after the demolition of the church.

ST. PETER'S CHURCH

History

According to Shawcross the church was built on the south-west corner of a large plot of market-gardening land where opposite to the site was the toll-gate for Chipping Campden and for Broadway. The foundation stone was laid on 24th October 1871 by Lord Northwick, accompanied by Lady Northwick, also present were the Rev. W. de Bentley, the Vicar, and Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas Allard, the Mayor and Mayoress of Evesham. William Thomas Allard was in his last year of Mayoralty having been Evesham's Mayor since 1866. The church was dedicated to the service of Almighty God and in honour of St. Peter and the ceremony of consecration took place on 4th September 1872; the consecration performed by Dr. Henry Philpott, Lord Bishop of Worcester. Excluding the cost of the clock, donated by Mr. Henry Burlingham, J.P., the new church cost £4,500. The church itself is a cruciform building containing a chancel, north and south transepts, a nave of four bays with aisles, and tower with spire. Extensions to the North-West end of the church were carried out in 1912-13 and again in 1991-92. The latter extension provides an all purpose room for social events as well as a toilet and kitchen. Refurbishment of the west end of the church now provides extra space for use by local schools and church groups and exhibition purposes.

The church contains a number of mural tablets, a font, and a credence table which were originally in the old church, including the five bells which were first sent to Birmingham to be re-casted into the existing six bells. There are eleven stain glass windows depicting religious scenes in the church and one, of unknown origin, in the extension. All are illustrated in this publication, along with the mural tablets, and objects of interest in and outside the church.

The Registers

The christenings, marriages, marriage banns and burials registers are available for research at the Hive, Worcestershire. Including the registers from the old church, christenings cover the period 1538 - 1964, marriages 1538 - 1964, burials 1538 - 1966 and marriage banns 1754-1802, 1824-1950 and 1944-1959. Later registers are with the incumbent.

The Churchyard and Garden of Rest

The churchyard itself is beautifully maintained by a team of dedicated amateur gardeners and contains a Garden of Rest for the interment of cremated remains. Burials from 1857 onwards were mainly taking place in the nearby Bengeworth cemetery at least until 1875 when the nearby Waterside cemetery was created and people choose to be buried there, or elsewhere. There are a total of 392 monuments presently in the garden, either stone tablets or bronze plaques. Five stone have been removed since the last survey in 1991. A Book of Remembrance, on display in a cabinet inside the church, contains 379 entries covering the period 1957 to 2011 with an additional entry where the ashes were interred in Bengeworth cemetery. My own studies of the memorial tablets and bronze plaques in the Garden of Rest, and the entries in the Book of Remembrance provides a figure of 469 individuals from 1957 to 2014. An index of those individuals and the inscriptions on the monuments are provided in the following pages.

Remembering those who Served

Each year, on November 1st, members of the local branch of the British Legion accompanied by the town Mayor, or his deputy, gather in the Garden of Rest to remember those who served. A full service of remembrance inside the church takes place on the second Sunday of November preceded by a parade of ex-service veterans, cadets from the Army, Navy and Air Force, members of the St. John's ambulance service, and local guide and scout movements. All march from Bengeworth Club in Coronation Street to the church headed by one of our local bands. This has proved to be one of the most popular and well attended memorial services in the area, as proved by the large number of participants and standard bearers in attendance. A memorial board to those who gave their lives in the service of their country is provided inside the church, and their names are read out during the memorial service. The men listed on this board have been well researched and documented and because some names are still being investigated, I have not included the research material in this study, as I have in all my previous publications. All those listed on the Evesham Abbey Park memorial, particularly the casualties from WW1, are currently being research, and include some of the names on the Bengeworth memorial.

WYKES-JOYCE (BICKNELL) - tablet. L16

IN LOVING MEMORY/ MAX/ WYKES-JOYCE/ (Eric Bicknell)/ 26.12.1924/ 9.12.2002/ Art Historian

[In the Second World War Eric Bicknell served in the Royal Air Force where he first began writing articles for the local R.A.F. Camp Magazine, but it was under the pseudonym, Max Wykes-Joyce, that he became one of Britain's most respected and distinguished art critics. He was a noted Member of the International Association of Art Critics, and was awarded the Golden Award, by and made Member of, Academia Italia delle Arti con Medaglia d'Oro. He was the distinguished London Art Critic for The International Herald Tribune for two decades from 1967 until 1987. Thereafter he wrote regularly for the Fine Arts Correspondent, Antique Dealer & Collection Guide, and was a frequent invited contributor to journals and magazines in Japan, France, Italy, and Spain. He was also the author, and a co-author, of books on art, cosmetics, pottery and Edith & Osbert Sitwell.

He eventually settled back in Evesham, where he was born, the only son of Fred & Elizabeth Margaret Bicknell (née Ballard), her ashes are also here in the Garden of Rest but Fred buried in Bengeworth cemetery. Max, as he was affectionately known locally, spent his final years working on a book highlighting his relationship with Ezra Pound and the Poundians; Ezra Pound was an expatriate American poet and critic who was a major figure of the early modernist movement. The work was completed on December 13th, 1997, but the author was undecided on the title therefore two copies of the manuscript with different titles were printed by me and presented to Max. As far as I am aware Max only approached one publisher but the very detailed but short manuscript was considered unsuitable for publication. This single rejection, I believe, was sufficient to depress the author, now very much in declining health, and the manuscript shelved. Max in the meantime disposed of his Ezra Pound collection of papers which are now distributed among various institutions in America. Copies of the correspondence from two institutions have been acquired by me for my own collection but it is obvious that some of the earliest correspondence from Ezra Pound to Max is missing.]

Pictures and Icon in the church.

This large Baroque monument to John Deacle is attributed to Francis Bird (1667-1731). It was the largest and most dominant memorial in the old church as it is now in the new church on the south wall of the south transept.

An early and the latest view of the Alderman Deacle's School erected in 1738 which included a house for the master and a school room.

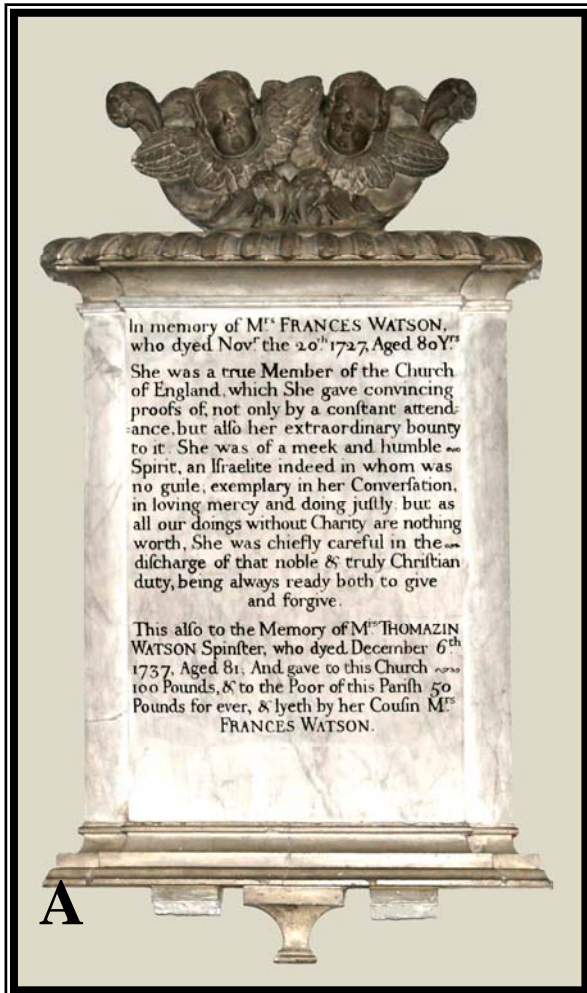

This tablet, erected to the memory of Thomas Beale, was originally in the south aisle of the old church. It was removed to the tower porch in 1870 where it remained until 1922 when it was placed in the south transept of the present church.

When this tablet was moved to its present position it was said to be composed of several sections of stone that may have once been part of a reredos. The rear sections were coloured in gilt, vermillion and green and draped figures were also visible. The inscription plate above has a joint down the middle, as has most of the main part of the tablet shown right.

Mural tablets for [A] Frances Watson, [B] Thomas Watson and [C] coffin plate for John Deacle. All originating from the old church.

Mural tablet for Samuel Edward Marsden D. D. This tablet was unveiled by Bishop Marsden's son Edward on October 15th, 1924. Samuel Marsden is also remembered for the Vicarage which he built in Bengeworth in 1866. The cost of this tablet was defrayed by an anonymous donor.

Mural tablets for the Rev. William Corry De Bentley Corry and his wife Ann.

Mural tablet for the Rev. John Shaw. With this tablet are associated the gift of the two tablets on the east wall of the chancel on which are inscribed the Creed, the Lord's Prayer, and the Ten Commandments.

BENGEWORTH CEMETERY

History

The Trustees of Bengeworth cemetery, known as the Burial Board, was formed in November 1855 in order to determine whether a burial ground be provided for the Parish of Bengeworth under the Burials (beyond the Metropolis) Act. The following ratepayers of the Parish were appointed to the Board - Henry Workman, Richard Gibbs, John New, John James Tipper, Thomas Pratt, Thomas Jarrett, Thomas Horseman, James Hawley and George Henry Garrard, a solicitor, who was appointed Clerk of the Board. The Board duly set about its task of obtaining permission to provide a new burial site and obtaining suitable land for its creation. A parcel of land covering an area of 2 roods and 30 perches and known as 'Amens Corner', otherwise 'Brantletts Corner' was found suitable and was eventually purchased in 1856 from the Churchwardens of the Parish of Bengeworth for the sum of £168. The sitting tenant, Charles Baylis, on receiving notice claimed £44.1.3d in compensation, but eventually settled for £25.

On 1st February 1856 at a meeting of the Burial Board, the Clerk reported that he had had an interview with the Rt. Hon. Lord Northwich who a short time ago had intimated to a Deputation of the Parishioners that if they could find a suitable piece of land to the extent of an acre or so at a reasonable price he would purchase the same and present it to the Parish - and that his Lordship had promised the Clerk at this interview to contribute the sum of £90 towards the purchase of the piece of land called 'Amen Corner'. He did in fact contribute £100 toward the purchase and setting up cost of the cemetery, and a Miss Anne Porter of The Court House, Birlingham, gave £50. She was a wealthy landowner whose land bounded all but the north side of the purchased ground. The sale of fruit and trees on the ground fetched £4.9.6d.

Construction of the entrance porch, walls and fence was carried out by local builder Mr. George Hunt for the sum of £370 and six shillings. Mr. John Morgan was approved as the first grave digger to the board, and Mr. C. Smith, gardener, was given the task of maintaining the cemetery with an annual salary of £5.

The cemetery was duly consecrated by the Lord Bishop of Worcester (the Rt. Rev. Henry Pepys, D.D.) on 12th May 1857, with additional extended areas being consecrated on 30th June 1870 and in 1900.

The Burial Board was dissolved in 1924 and replaced, despite opposition, by a committee of the Evesham Town Council. Today it is administered by the Evesham Town Clerks office.

Interments

The first interment took place on 10th July 1857 involving Mrs Sarah Francis Cull and quickly followed on 19th July 1857 by Thomas Hawley, the three year old son of Board member James Hawley. His wife died in 1868 and also interred in the cemetery.

The total number of children buried in the cemetery 16 years and under total 667, five of these listed as stillborn. The oldest is Fanny Hopkins who died on 16th February 1957, aged 106. She was born Fanny Dowler in 1850 in South Littleton, daughter of William and Mary Dowler. She married John Hopkins, the Parish Clerk mentioned in the previous paragraph, in Evesham in 1882. He died in 1933 aged 82. There are six other centenarians buried in the cemetery: Sarah Durham (102), formerly Sarah Gould who married John Durham at South Littleton in 1836. He died in 1892 and buried in the same plot. Annie Elizabeth Witts (102), formerly Annie Elizabeth Fryer who married Philip John Witts in 1927 in Pershore. He died in 1960 and buried in the same plot. Emily Jane Major (101), formerly Emily Jane George who married James Major in Evesham in 1933. He died in 1975 and buried in the same plot. Eliza Bayliss (100), formerly Eliza Staite and first married to Joseph Conebeere in 1858 in Pershore. After his death in 1870 she married Benuiah Bayliss in St. Peter's Church on Christmas Day 1872. An engine driver by trade he died in 1896 and buried elsewhere in the cemetery under the name of Benjamin Baylis. Finally we have Florence Hayman (100), formerly Florence Hopkins whose marriage I have yet to discover. She is buried with a brother and a sister. Also in the cemetery are 161 individuals who were in their 90's, 70% of these female, and 679 individuals in their 80's, 71% of these female. By the end of December 2014, a total of 3,952 interments have taken place. The cemetery is now full and only second interments or the interment of ashes are taking place.

Monuments and inscriptions

A number of monuments in this cemetery commemorate individuals who are interred elsewhere, including a stone dedicated to Joseph Hiles Wright, who was born in Evesham in 1838. He was one of eight known children born to Abraham Harding and Martha Wright (née Hiles) who were married in Kidderminster on 16th May 1832. Abraham was born in 1808 in Northamptonshire and Martha was from Liverpool. After moving to

Evesham Abraham became a local councillor and a Justice of the Peace. Among the trades noted in the various census returns he was a seed merchant, a grocer, and an auctioneer. His wife Martha died in 1858 and Abraham was to marry Sarah Elizabeth Hunt at Kings Norton in 1862. The son, Joseph became a doctor and according to the inscription on the gravestone was surgeon to the steam clipper, the Royal Charter. The damaged stone reads:

"IN REMEMBRANCE OF JOSEPH HILES WRIGHT SURGEON TO THE "ROYAL CHARTER"
WHO WAS LOST IN THE WRECK OF THAT ILL FATED VESSEL ON WEDNESDAY,
OCTOBER 26TH, 1859, AGED 21:
OF THE SHIPS CREW AND PASSENGERS ONLY 35 ESCAPED A WATERY GRAVE"

The ship was totally wrecked on the north coast of Anglesey. The survivors, 21 passengers and 18 crew members, were all men, with no women or children saved. Some of the 371 passengers were returning from the Australian gold fields with their fortunes and were said to have drowned, weighed down by the belts of gold they were wearing around their bodies. Many of the bodies recovered from the sea were buried nearby at St Gallgo's Church in Llanallgo, where the graves and a memorial can still be seen. There is also a memorial on the cliff above, on the Anglesey. Many bodies were not recovered, or the bodies of those that were found not identifiable presumably including the body of Joseph Hiles Wright.

Interred in the cemetery and deserving of a special mention is John Peter Shawcross who was baptised on 9th August 1863 at Northwood in the potteries, Staffordshire, the second son of William Shawcross (1834-1900), a clergyman schoolmaster who came from Wittingham, Lancashire and Hannah (born 1831) who came from Castleton, Derbyshire. He married Henrietta Maria Sale (1848-1948), in Paddington in 1893. She was born in Ramsgate, Kent in 1856 and died a 90 year old widow, at Wood End House, Wood End Hayes on 6th January 1948, leaving an estate of almost £25,000. They had a son, Leonard (1898-1977) who was born in 1898 and educated at Twyford School, near Winchester. Another child died before 1911.

John matriculated at Oxford University, non collegiate, on 13th October 1883 aged 20. He achieved 1st class honours in his B.A. degree in 1886 and achieved his M.A. in 1889. He came from a family of clerics. His father, William, and brother William Henry Shawcross were both clergymen. He was appointed deacon, priest and became curate of Holt, Worcestershire, in 1887. In 1891 he was lodging at Little Witley, Worcestershire. He served here for six years before being appointed Vicar of St. Chad's, Chadwell Heath in 1893, where he served until 1895. He penned several books and pamphlets. In 1902 he published A Short Sketch of Goodmayes (Past & Present), a small booklet of just eight pages, but he is probably best known for his authoritative History of Dagenham which was first published by Skeffingtons in 1904, republished in 1908 and again in paperback in 2012. In it he describes himself as Vicar of Chadwell Heath and Chaplain to the West Ham County Borough Asylum. By 1911 he was Chaplain to the Winchester Union and then living at Winchester. He then served as Vicar of Bengeworth from 1917 - 1926, during which time he served on the Bengeworth Burial Board and wrote, aided by E.A. B. Barnard, an account of Bengeworth to which I have often referred in this publication. Shawcross took a great interest in local history and was a member of the Royal Historical Society and Derbyshire Archaeological and Natural History Society. He retired to Brighton where he died on 2nd June 1929 and his body brought back to Bengeworth for burial. He left an estate of £10,195.

Memorial stones in the cemetery commemorating those who are interred elsewhere include 13 casualties of war. They are: Ernest Walter Andrews of the Grenadier Guards who was killed and buried in France on 25th November 1915; Private William Hughes Philip Field of the Worcestershire Yeomanry who was killed in action in Egypt and buried there on 23rd April 1916; 2nd Lieutenant Sidney Walter Randall of the Royal Flying Corps who was killed in an aerial battle over Cambrai on 31st October 1917; Gunner Horace Hartland New of the Royal Field Artillery died of wounds in Belgium on 9th November 1917; Sergeant Albert Maurice Gisborne M.M. of the Worcestershire regiment who was killed in action in France on 5th October 1918; Sergeant, Sergeant Colin M. Kilby of the East African Army Service Corps who died on 5th September 1940 and buried in Uganda; Private Frederick John Prentice of the Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry who was killed in France on 21st October 1914; W.O./Air Gunner Albert Bertram Cooper who was killed in action in France on 24th July 1941; Sergeant Arthur Thomas of the R.A.F.V.R. who was killed in action in Belgium on 24th August 1942; Flight Sergeant Charles Richard Carlton Hoddinott of the R.A.F.V.R. who was killed in action on 16th March 1944 in Italy; Private John Henry Pouncett of the Kings Shropshire Light Infantry who was killed in action at Normandy on 30th July 1944; Geoffrey Andrews, Sergeant Wireless Operator R.A.F.V.R. who was killed in an accident in Egypt on 22nd September 1944 and Sergeant Joseph Henry Such of the Monmouthshire Regiment who was killed in Holland on 30th November 1944.

There are three individuals in the cemetery who died while serving in H.M. Forces and having the official headstones provided by the Commonwealth War Grave Commission. They are: Corporal Harry Stanley Dowdeswell of the Warwickshire Yeomanry, who died on 20th February 1916, aged 48; Private Albert John Westwood of the Worcestershire Regiment who died on 21st March 1919, aged 26; and Frederick Edward Wright of the Worcestershire Regiment who died on 27th February 1943, aged 21. Although listed in the Commonwealth War Grave Commission Records, but not having an official headstone, is Joseph John Hedley Masters who served in the Royal Field Artillery and was gassed during the closing stages of the war. Although he returned home and took up his former occupation with his father at Park Moor Farm, Hartlebury, it is to this cause that his death was directly attributed. Being a fine cornet player his first job in the Army was with a recruiting band but he later volunteered for active duty. He is buried with his mother and father John Hedley and Annie Masters (née Davies) who were married in Hereford in 1894. In an unmarked grave is Neville Lloyd Lee, youngest son of Thomas Ebenezer and Alice Lee (née Cooper) who were married in Droitwich in 1906. Neville died on 8th March 1944, aged 21, and had never fully recovered from an injury which he sustained while serving as a telegraphist in the Royal Navy in 1943. In 1937 he entered the employ of the Journal Press as an apprentice in the Composing Department, and soon became a very competent linotype operator. On the outbreak of war he was keen to become a wireless operator and in 1941 entered a Wireless Training College to fit him for the Mercantile Marine wireless service. Here he showed marked ability and passed with credits all the necessary examinations, and he was on the point of being drafted to his first ship when he was called up under the National Service Act, joining the Royal Navy in 1942. After preliminary training he was posted to H.M. Destroyers, in which he was on convoy duty to Russia, served in the Mediterranean, and was present at the North Africa landings. It was so serving that he met with an injury to his right knee and received treatment abroad. Afterwards he was sent back to this country and remained in hospital for some time. Subsequently his leg was amputated but he bore his misfortune with great courage and was looking forward to being able to resume his pre-war occupation. This hope was not realised, however as complications supervened, which untimely ended in his untimely death. He left a wife Margaret (née Smith) whom he married in 1943 at Uxbridge and a baby daughter Carol.

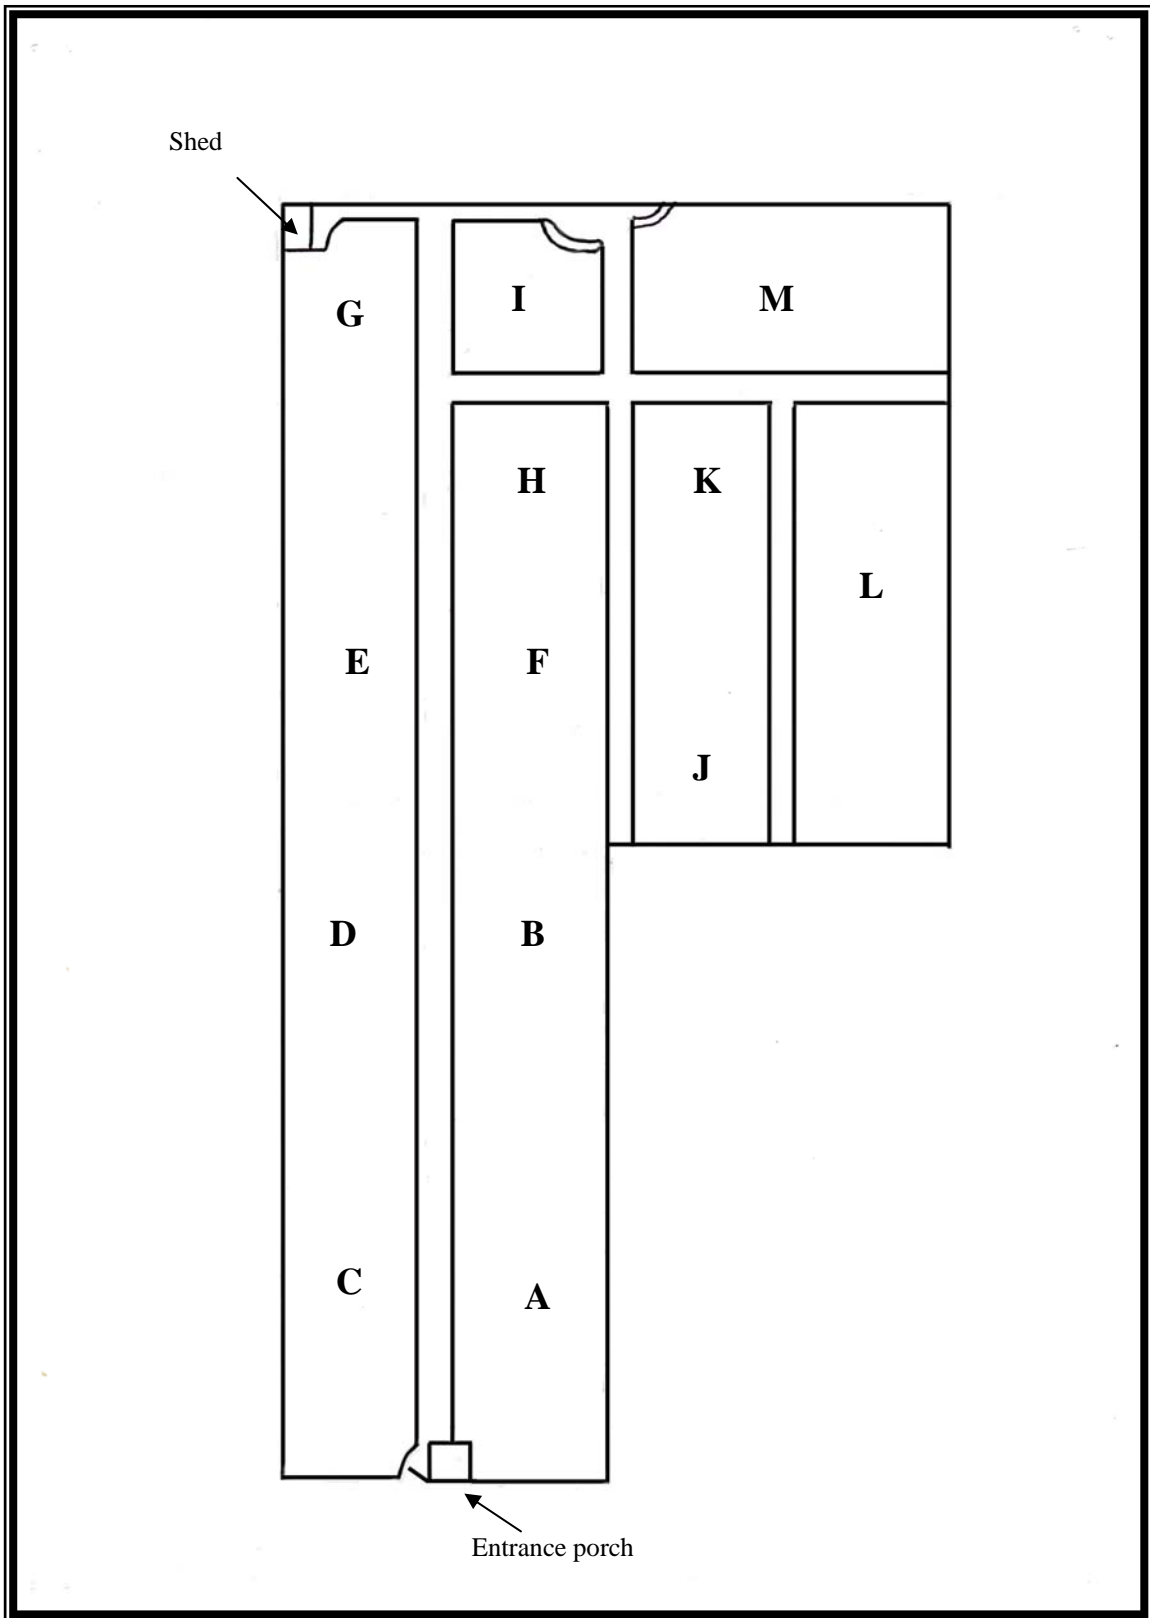

Henry and Frances Mary Field, the parents of William Hughes Field, and the soldier mentioned above, suffered more tragedy, as another monument tells us that they lost their youngest child, Douglas John, in 1898 aged just 15 months. Eight years later, in 1906, their son Charles Henry aged 25 was drowned off Wellington, New Zealand. Henry and Frances Mary (née Phillips) who were married in Birmingham in 1878 had a total of eleven children, including Annie who was the twin sister of Charles Henry who drowned. Henry Field died in 1908 and Frances Mary died in Vancouver, British Columbia while visiting her son-in-law Henry Dyson whom her daughter Elsie married in Evesham in 1910. The elaborate headstone in the cemetery is inscribed on both sides.

Apart from the information provided in the burial registers few of the stones relate to the occupations or activities of the individuals interred in the graves. I am a firm believer that if a man served as a postman for some 20 years this should be put on the headstone rather than the usual endearments or the popular sentiment 'Never to be forgotten' as often found on long neglected graves. Those that are informative include John Gibbs who according to his stone 'was a devoted student of the Natural Sciences, In 1936 he lighted the Town of Evesham with gas and in 1838 aided the formation of the Institute to which he made many donations.'; George and Edith Annie Witts: George for 42 years the beloved schoolmaster and organist of Bengeworth and Edith schoolmistress of Bengeworth; Edward Harry Wadams was an Alderman and Freeman of the Borough of Evesham; Henry Master was an Alderman, a J.P. and three time Mayor of Evesham; John Hopkins was a Parish Clerk; George Ernest Bearcroft, M.B.E., was for 30 years an Alderman and Councillor for the City of Sheffield and William Cook was a fishmonger.

A family Bible found in a local charity shop once belonging to a member of the Van der Beken family prompted me to investigate the origins of this family as no-one of male line appears to have been born locally. There are two large obelisks in the cemetery where five members of this family are interred. The Van der Beken's were diverse in their occupations, the father Guillaume Francois was a congregational minister in Jersey who was born and married in Paris, a son Henrie Rose G.D., who became a surgeon, was married in Croydon and another son, Roger Louis George, who became a naturalised British citizen in Evesham in 1904, was a fruit and vegetable grower. He married Jane Tilly Carter in Evesham in 1905 but they had no children. She survived him by nine years and buried in 1963 as Pearl Tilly Carter. She left an estate of £53739.16s.6d. Another son, Robert Victor Paul Van der Beken, became a naturalised British citizen in Evesham in 1909. A commercial traveller by trade he married Phyllis Tarry Allen in Birmingham in 1944, aged 59 years. Their ashes are in the Garden of Rest in Waterside cemetery.

A large number of the monuments in the cemetery are now unreadable, some grown over with turf and others collapsed, but where possible I have recorded all existing inscriptions along with a photographic record of the stones for a future publication. A selection of photographs showing the monuments for most of those mentioned above are included in this publication, as well an index which gives the names, ages burial dates and plot numbers of all those interred in the cemetery to the end of 2014. Due to the large number and complicated numbering of plots in each section only the section letter is shown on the map provided (Figure 3).

 ANNE Relic of
 JOHN ANTHONY ROPER
 Of Longdon Hill, Evesham
 Died Nov<sup>r</sup> 10th 1887,
 Aged 77 Years.

A large chest tomb dedicated to John Anthony Roper of Longdon Hill and his wife Anne. The dedication plaque to John is worn and unreadable. He was a landed proprietor and married Ann Tarrett in Evesham on October 4th, 1831. He was born in 1809 and died in 1868. During the 1851 census they were living in Nottingham. His father and grandfather are buried in the old Bengeworth cemetery where 40 individuals named Roper are buried. The earliest burial there was for a Thomas Roper who died in 1677 and the last Roper burial was in 1847 involving Anthony Roper, father of John Anthony Roper, and one of four Anthony Roper burials dating back to 1699.

BENGWORTH WATER FOUNTAIN

History

Near to the church is a water fountain surmounted by a lamp. This was given and erected by Henry Burlingham, at a cost of around £120, to commemorate the opening of the new water works. Engineers from Evesham had been searching many years for a reliable water source, as an alternative to the town's polluted wells. An ideal spring on the Middle Hill Estate, above Broadway, was found in 1881. The owner of the estate, was entrepreneur and business man Edgar Flower, co-owner of the Flowers Brewery in Stratford upon Avon. Edgar sold the rights of his spring water to Evesham Borough Council, and in 1883 Childswickham Reservoir was constructed on a half acre site, where water off the hill gravitated down to it. Pipe work was laid alongside the main Broadway to Evesham Road, supplying Evesham Town with a piped water supply. It was named Evesham Borough Corporation Water Works and was officially opened at 12 o'clock on 1st January 1884 with great pomp and ceremony.

Henry Burlingham (1813-1896)

Born on the 29th December 1813, Henry was the second son of Richard and Ann Burlingham (née Gregory). In 1837, at the age of 24, he was taken into partnership with his father and his uncle, James Gregory, who had been in partnership with his father since 1824 as ironmongers. In 1838 his father resigned from the company, leaving him in partnership with James Gregory. On 18th June 1839 Henry married Hannah Corbett of Pendleton in Lancashire. They had nine children:- Henry (1840-1854), Hannah Kilham (1842-1901), Sarah Ann (1843-1927), Richard (1845-1923), Charles (1846-1931), Alfred (1848-1851), Edward (1850-1851), Rachel Emily (1852-1899) and Edith Mary (1854-1949). None of the daughters married and three are buried in Bengeworth cemetery.

Some time around 1850 Henry bought Lansdowne, a large late Georgian house at the top of Port Street, from Lord Northwick. In 1845 James Gregory left the family business, so that Henry became the sole partner in the firm. From then on, the firm traded under the name of "Henry Burlingham & Co." Henry expanded and diversified the business, taking advantage of the situation of Evesham at the crossing of two railway lines, east-west from London to Worcester and north-south from Birmingham and Redditch to Gloucester. The company made nails and was also an iron, steel and coal merchant. Around 1850 the firm's coal trade grew to such an extent that it had depots as far away as Stow-on-the-Wold and Chipping Norton, and owned about 60 railway wagons. Around 1860 the firm began trading in agricultural implements and also sold kitchen ranges. During the 1860s the company became a merchant for fertilisers, feedstuffs and agricultural and horticultural chemicals. Guano from Peru and sodium nitrate from Chile were used by fruit and vegetable growers.

Henry retired from the firm in 1875 after 38 years as a partner. Henry was not only a successful businessman; he also played a prominent role in the town. He was Borough Auditor, 1843-1861, and an alderman, 1862-1868. From 1880 he served as a Justice of the Peace (i.e. magistrate). He was the first chairman of the Evesham Building Society and was partly responsible for the building and provisioning of Evesham Cottage Hospital. For more than 50 years Henry served as District Secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society. He eventually became a vice-president of the Society. He travelled widely in Europe, especially after his retirement. Henry Burlingham died at Lansdowne on 24 January 1896 at the age of 82, five months after his wife, Hannah, had died. In 1875 Hannah left the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) and joined the Plymouth Brethren together with at least two of their children. Henry and Hannah are buried together in the Quaker burial ground in Cowl Street as are three of their children Alfred, Edward and Henry. Their other children Charles and Richard are buried in Hampton churchyard and Waterside cemetery respectively, both interred with their wives, Charles with his first wife Ellinor Sedgwick Prance whom he married in 1879, she died in 1899. Charles then married Mabel Lake Marshall in 1904 and she died in 1911, aged only 33. She is also buried in Hampton churchyard where there is a memorial stone.

The drinking fountain given by Mr. Henry Burlingham, J.P. a member of the Society of Friends and a local benefactor. The fountain is no longer in use.

Lansdowne House, a Grade 2 listed building, in Port Street. Formerly the home Henry Burlingham and later to become occupied by Wychavon District Council as offices. Today it is in private hands and has been divided into flats with private housing now occupying most of the car parking area and known as Lansdowne Court. Below are the memorial stones for Henry Burlingham and other members of the Burlingham family lying in row in the Quaker Peace Garden alongside the Meeting House in Cowl Street. The Peace Garden was used as a burial ground between 1799 to 1907 and many of the 97 memorial stones are still readable, including those of the 13 members of the Burlingham family who are interred here.
